

Medical Oncology

Oncology Fellowship Program

Application details

Prerequisite(s): Completed three years of Internal Medicine and 2 years in Medical Oncology in a recognized University

Estimated % clinical workload: 60-80%

Number of positions annually: 1-2

Duration: 1-2 years

Start date: July 1st

Application deadline: September 30th

Contact: Arlette Mendicino
(613) 737-7700 ext. 70241

Fellowship Director: Dr. Timothy Asmis

What we offer you

Gain clinical research skills in Medical Oncology in a networking-positive environment where you work and learn alongside internationally renowned Medical Oncology staff.

The Oncology Fellowship Program is unique in that Fellows have their own longitudinal “Fellows Clinic” where the fellow runs their own practice and learns many of the skills required for subsequent independent practice as a specialist physician.

Great opportunity to do a meaningful Clinical Research training in medical oncology and become a clinical expert at developing, enrolling and implementing clinical and research projects. Have the opportunity to teach residents and medical students in their chosen disease site in medical oncology

Research Fellowship is for those wanting to obtain a higher level of clinical exposure in general oncology or specific disease site, clinical duties are typically 60-80% of your workload (5-7 half day clinics per week) and it also involves teaching, academic and research activities of their primary discipline as assigned by their primary supervisor.